STRATFORD-UPON-AVON
17 APRIL - 30 MAY

A promotional image for the play 'Driftwood'. It depicts a woman in a red top and a long, flowing green skirt, captured in a dynamic pose as if dancing or twirling. She is wearing a pearl necklace and a bracelet. In the background, another woman in a blue dress is seated in a chair, looking towards the camera. The setting is a dimly lit room with large windows covered by sheer curtains, a floor lamp with a fringed shade, and a leather sofa. The overall atmosphere is warm and dramatic.

Welcome to the Spring Festival 2026

We bring you a programme that has ideas bursting out all over it. In a world of fast-paced and often confusing change, we're looking at AI, news censorship and what the future looks like to writers. And, as always, we're showcasing brilliant writers, thinkers and experts. We're delighted to be supporting the 2026 National Year of Reading and Stratford's River Hope project with some events around water and rivers. There's plenty to w(h)et your appetite.

Join us for everything from table top storytelling to wines to drink with the classics, and from leading classicists to Shakespeare continued relevance across the globe. We look forward to having you with us.

Tiffany Murray WORKSHOP: Using Memoir for Fiction

£48.11 | 10am-12.30pm

Do you have the urge to write but no idea where to begin? Or the beginnings of a draft, but no clue how to finish it? Join writer Tiffany Murray as she shows you how to draw on lived experience to write memoir or fiction. Through practical writing exercises in a supportive and creative environment, you'll learn how to shape what might feel like messy, complicated truths into stories that make sense on the page. Tiffany's memoir, My Family and Other Rock Stars, was a Sunday Times, Guardian and Independent book of the year, and she has been an International Hay Festival Fiction fellow and a Fulbright scholar.

Alix Almond WORKSHOP: Linocut - Water and Rivers

£48.11 | 10am-12.30pm

Our ever-popular linocut workshop is back! The artist and printmaker will guide you through the process of designing, carving and handprinting a single-colour image, either inspired by our water and rivers theme or by something entirely different - let your imagination run wild! Alix is a member of Warwickshire Open Studios and teaches linocut workshops across Warwickshire and Coventry. Her work is inspired by landscapes, wildlife and colour. Suitable for beginners and those with some experience of linocut. Including all materials

Thursday 7th May

Magdi Yacoub A Surgeon and a Maverick

£13.90 | 12.30pm

Magdi Yacoub is an outsider who succeeded against the odds. Born in Egypt in 1935, the pioneering cardiac surgeon climbed to the very top of the British medical profession but clashed with its establishment, too. From performing the first heart and lung transplant in Europe to transforming the treatment of children with congenital heart disease, Yacoub's career has pushed the boundaries of scientific understanding. Yacoub will discuss his fascinating life and experience of medical politics and ethics at the highest levels.

The Rolling Year: Listening to the Seasons with Vivaldi

£13.90 | 12.30pm

The BBC Radio 3 presenter explores Antonio Vivaldi's evergreen and iconic work - the famous set of highly descriptive violin concertos. Though published 300 years ago, the themes it contains continue to reveal new truths to listeners today. Through the rich imagery of each concerto and its accompanying poetry, Dr Hannah French uncovers the detail of Vivaldi's personal and creative life, helping to bring a new perspective to the music through our shared experiences of the joys and fears of the ever-evolving seasons, the sounds of ancient festivals and the beauty and brutality of the natural world.

Bethany Handley

My Body is a Meadow

£10.69 | 2pm

The metal and rubber of a wheelchair can become just as much a part of your body as skin and bone, says Bethany Handley, who invites us to rethink how we live among nature and each other. Today public rights of way are blocked in 32,000 places across England and Wales. Her book explores the lessons nature can teach us about inclusion and interdependence, unearthing parallels between land ownership and private healthcare, loss of biodiversity and social marginalisation, and urging us to work together to keep nature accessible for all.

A More Perfect Union - Our Relationship with Europe after Brexit

£16.04 | 2pm

Europe is home to Britain's allies and friends. We still trade more with the EU than any other area. China's rise and Russia's aggression have upended the global balance of power, while the US is proving to be an unstable partner. If Britain and Europe can't work together, what chance do democracy and the rule of law have, asks the human rights barrister and former wife of Boris Johnson. Join Wheeler as she makes the case that our relations with Europe must be transformed if our fundamental political liberties are to survive another generation.

Robert Thorogood
The Mysterious Affair
of Judith Potts

£13.90 | 3.30pm

The Marlow Murder Club is back! Join the bestselling novelist for a discussion of the fifth instalment of his hit cosy crime series. The bodies are piling up in Marlow, with a footballer and a thriller writer found dead, while someone from Club member Judith's past has turned up and is stirring up trouble. Can they find the killer and help Judith in time, or could this be the end of the Marlow Murder Club?

Thursday 7th May

Andrew Graham-Dixon
Vermeer in a New Light

£16.04 | 3.30pm

Why did Vermeer paint his pictures, and what do they mean? The art historian and BBC broadcaster answers these questions fully for the first time. For centuries, much of Vermeer's life was shrouded in mystery, but Graham-Dixon has drawn on new leads and a mass of historical evidence to paint a dramatically new picture of the artist and his works. From hitherto unknown friendships to a previously unreported allegiance to a radical movement driven underground by persecution, this is Vermeer as he's never been seen before.

Thursday 7th May

Prof Mike Wooldridge
Game Theory

£13.90 | 5pm

What do you think game theory is? A science of conflict and greed? In films or novels, it is mostly used as a shorthand for cut-throat competition or inevitable betrayal. But game theory actually has much to teach us about how to make a better world. From overfishing in the Atlantic to the Cuban Missile Crisis, join the University of Oxford computer science professor as he discusses the real-world examples of the value of game theory in our lives.

Thursday 7th May

Saul David and
Roger Moorhouse
War and Legacy

£14.97 | 5pm

Two historians explore very different aspects of WWII in new depth. Roger Moorhouse's Wolfpack is a landmark new history of the U-boat war, the only thing that 'really frightened' Churchill, told for the first time through the experiences of the crews that manned them. Saul David's Tunisgrad is the first comprehensive account of the 1943 fighting in Tunisia, which ended Axis seapower in the Mediterranean and changed the course of the War, but has since been mostly dismissed as a sideshow. Join the pair for an engaging discussion about researching overlooked histories, and writing them in new ways.

The Cost of Trust:
The Ian Paterson Scandal
£13.90 | 6.30pm

We trust doctors with our bodies. What happens when that trust is betrayed? In 2017, Midlands surgeon Ian Paterson was sentenced to 20 years in prison for wounding his patients through botched or unnecessary surgeries. But the case covered just a fraction of Paterson's victims. Deborah Douglas and Tracy King, both casualties of Paterson, have now uncovered the true extent of his atrocities, through a vital work of investigative journalism. Join them as they discuss their campaign to expose Paterson and the failure of the medical authorities overseeing his work.

Patrick Gale
Love Lane
£14.97 | 6.30pm

What happens when you return to a country - and a family - you left behind? In the acclaimed novelist's latest book, a sequel to A Place Called Winter, Canadian wheat farmer Harry Cane returns to find England transformed by two world wars and a family for whom he has become just a distant myth. Can he stay and make a new life back home, or will he find himself cast out again for having witnessed too much? Gale is the author of several novels including Gentleman's Relish and Take Nothing with You.

Sajiv Javid
The Colour of Home
£14.97 | 6.30pm

The former Health Secretary shares his critically-acclaimed memoir - a moving exploration of growing up in 1970s England, his experiences of racism and his beliefs which took him into the heart of British public life. He'll share experiences of the racist abuse that surrounded his family in Rochdale and a childhood marked by poverty and the tension and determination produced by trying to conform to two cultures - a tension that threatened estrangement from his family and a determination to refuse to accept the limits that seemed imposed by his background.

Surround Sound - The Stories of Movie Music
£19.24 | 8pm

A film score can make you cheer, shiver, or punch the air. But how does a director communicate their vision to a composer? And what makes some soundtracks take on a life of their own? Through interviews with talents from Radiohead's Jonny Greenwood to Oscar-winning composer Howard Shore, veteran film critic and BBC broadcaster Mark Kermode and radio producer Jenny Nelson have uncovered the secrets of sound on the silver screen. Join the pair for a discussion of how what we hear has an impact on what we see.

WORKSHOP:
How to Finish Your Novel
 £48.11 | 9.30-11.30am

Are you stuck in the middle of your story? Is your plot running out of steam, or are you unsure what's next for your characters? Clare Clark, author of seven novels and twice longlisted for the Women's Prize, can help you tackle the functional, psychological and creative barriers that prevent books from getting finished. Let Clare introduce you to practical tools and creative strategies to regain your writing momentum and get your story over the finish line!

Friday 8th May

Gillian McAllister
and BA Paris
Caller Unknown
and When I Kill You
 £13.90 | 11am

Two bestselling novelists bring us their latest propulsive psychological thrillers. In Gillian McAllister's Caller Unknown, Simone faces a parent's greatest nightmare when her teenage daughter, Lucy, is kidnapped on their holiday in Texas. The kidnapper leaves a phone - and rings it, demanding that Simone must commit a crime to get her daughter back. In When I Kill You, BA Paris' Nell Masters becomes convinced that the man she accused of murder 14 years earlier has discovered her new identity and is out to get her.

Talking to Olivia Chapman

Friday 8th May

Dr Tony Juniper
Just Earth: How a Fairer
World Will Save the Planet
 £16.04 | 11am

The leading environmentalist and Chair of Natural England brings us his new book that identifies the real problem at the heart of the climate crisis: inequality. While billionaires build remote bunkers and plan for colonies on Mars, climate collapse hits the most vulnerable first and hardest. But inequality isn't just about who suffers the consequences. It's the main obstacle blocking action. Join us for a discussion about the system shifts needed to achieve real, lasting change.

The Sally Challen Case -
Domestic Violence and the Criminal Justice System
 £16.04 | 12.30pm

Our justice system is failing women who are abused by their partners. Sally Challen, who killed her husband after enduring 40 years of psychological abuse, was painted as a 'jealous lover' by the courts and convicted of his murder. David Challen, Sally's son, who successfully fought to overturn her conviction, and their lawyer Harriet Wistrich, the leading human rights activist, discuss what the legal system still gets wrong about domestic abuse and coercive control.

£19.24 | 3.30pm

Everyone thinks they know the story of Rasputin, the 'mad monk' who bewitched Tsar Nicholas II and his wife, Alexandra, and changed the course of history. In fact his legend has bewitched historians ever since. Now the bestselling author of Stalingrad charts the riddle at the heart of Rasputin's relationship with the Romanovs, reevaluating the collapse of the greatest autocracy on earth. Was there any truth to the wild tales that brought down the empire, or is Rasputin's true legacy an unsettling lesson in the potency of myths?

Crick - A Mind in Motion
£13.90 | 6.30pm

The academic, author and broadcaster charts the life of Francis Crick in the first major biography of the man who changed our view of life forever. He'll explain how Crick was a restless, relentless thinker, as fascinated by Beat poetry and psychedelics as he was by the genetic foundation of life and the inner workings of the brain. Yet for all his drive, it was collaborations - with Jim Watson on DNA and with artists from Cambridge to California - that really powered one of the twentieth century's most exciting minds.

Saturday 9th May

Dame Vikki Heywood
Miss Veal and Miss Ham
£13.90 | 11.30am

The debut novel by the National Theatre board member and former RSC executive director is an intimate, moving and witty story about a love that cannot be spoken. It's 1951. Miss Dora Ham and Miss Beatrix Veal work in a rural Buckinghamshire post office, careful to maintain their facade as respected local spinsters. But theirs is a love story that began at a suffrage rally in the 1900s, and took them to London's secret gay clubs between the wars. Now, over the course of one pivotal day, their carefully constructed world begins to fall apart.

Two authors bring us tales of espionage - one a biography and one a reimagining of a real, hidden slice of history. A picturesque retirement colony for spies is the setting of Alex Preston's novel, A Stranger in Corfu. For years, these exiles, either too damaged or too compromised to be allowed to live freely, have tried to make the best of their fate, but then one of their own washes up dead. In Master of Lies, Piers Blofeld reveals the untold story of real-life spy and 'Cambridge Five' member Anthony Blunt - whom he dubs 'the most dangerous spy of the twentieth century' - and the cover-up that kept the extent of his treachery under wraps for decades.

Tom Service
A History of the World in 50 Pieces

£13.90 | 6pm

Music transports and defines us, and is passed down through oral tradition, notation and recordings. The BBC Radio 3 presenter joins us for a journey through pieces of classical, folk and world music that have shaped our history. From Bach to Beethoven, Hildegard of Bingen to 'Happy Birthday', Service expands the canon and tests the boundaries of what we understand to be classical music - or even music at all.

Saturday 9th May

Sophie Raworth
Running on Air

£18.17 | 6.30pm

The BBC newsreader brings us a story about the transformative power of putting one foot in front of the other. When she first attempted the London Marathon, Sophie collapsed two miles from the finish line. Undeterred, she has now run all six World Marathon Majors, run 15 marathons, and three ultra-marathons. She will talk about the inner confidence and strength she discovered along the way, the community she found, and how running has helped her through personal and professional challenges.

Saturday 9th May

Warhammer Games
Café (12+)
£10.69 | 7-9pm

Whether you already know your Orks from your Orruks, or you've never dabbled in 'the hobby', this event will give you a chance to build, paint and play with Warhammer figures under the guidance of local tabletop gaming experts. Across four stations: one for building models, one for painting them, and two tables for experienced and inexperienced players - you'll be able to take part in all the key parts of the Warhammer hobby. Starter model kits and paints for old and new players will be provided by Games Workshop, the company behind Warhammer, and experienced players are also welcome to bring their own models.

*Young people under 14 years can attend alone but a contact number for a responsible adult must be left.

Jo Hamilton
Why Are You Here
Mrs Hamilton?
The Post Office Scandal
 £16.04 | 4pm

One of more than 700 sub-postmasters and mistresses prosecuted based on information from the Post Office's faulty Horizon software, Jo Hamilton was caught up in one of Britain's biggest miscarriages of justice. She brings us her first-hand account of the human struggle behind the headlines, as immortalised in ITV's smash hit Mr Bates vs The Post Office (she is played by Monica Dolan), from going into debt to repay money to taking the case to the corridors of the High Court.

If This Be Magic
(Shakespeare in Translation)
 £13.90 | 4pm

Why might Hamlet be even longer in Italian? How does Romeo and Juliet begin - in Thai? The seasoned translator and Shakespeare fanatic brings us his book asking what it is to translate the Bard. If you change all the poetry, all the wordplay, all the words, is it still Shakespeare? And is it still good? Hahn will discuss why we choose the words we do, and change the way you think about language along the way.

The Evolving Brain: How to Thrive in a World We Weren't Made For
 £13.90 | 4pm

It's easy to blame ourselves when we struggle with modern life, from burnout to loneliness, but the human brain wasn't made for the world we live in now. Processes that evolved to ensure our survival now leave us overloaded, restless, and unhappy. But it doesn't have to be this way. The neurologist and neuroscientist - visiting professor at Imperial College London - brings us insights from cutting-edge studies and his clinical practice that can help us live happier, healthier, and more connected lives.

Philippa Perry and Richard Coles
Church and the Couch to Cosy Crime
 £21.38 | 5.30pm

Two well-known personalities have turned to crime, each inspired by their career origins. In Shrink Solves Murder, psychotherapist Patricia Philippus turns detective after one of her patients turns up dead. The police chalk it up to suicide, but Pat suspects foul play, so swaps the therapy room for the crime scene and attempts to catch a killer hiding in plain sight. A glamorous movie production has taken over Champton in the latest Rev Richard Coles' Canon Clement novel, but an ingenious murder on location forces everyone's favourite crime-solving vicar to go sleuthing again.

Festival in the Community

The Festival is a charity and committed to changing lives, improving well-being and life opportunities, and bringing people together through books and storytelling.

Books with Friends

We run three free sessions on the last Thursday of the month in the centre of Stratford at which over a cup of coffee members share their thoughts on a book they've all read. We especially welcome people who find themselves a bit isolated for whatever reason. If you would like to join the group, please email us at info@stratfordliteraryfestival.co.uk

Bedtime Story Workshops in Prisons

We are the only organisation in the country teaching prisoners to write a bedtime story to help lessen the trauma of separation for their children. We then professionally produce the stories so they can share them with their children or record them through the Storybook Dads/Mums initiative. Since 2017 we have delivered over 60 workshops across the UK in male and female prisons with the writers, Hollie Hughes, Smriti Prasad-Halls and Patrick Kincaid.

Please support our work by becoming a Friend or Benefactor!

Festival in Schools

Throughout the year we take authors into primary and secondary schools to inspire young people to have a lifelong love of books. Our events are designed to respond to National Literacy Trust research on the drop in young people's reading for enjoyment. We're working with the following authors already in 2026:

Emma Carroll
Frank Cottrell Boyce
Christopher Edge
Devon Glover
Sophy Henn
Patrice Lawrence
Smriti Prasadam-Halls

Jane Riordan
Philip Reeve and

- » Tickets will be on sale at the Festival Information Desk during the Festival, unless an event is sold out. The booking number and online booking link can be found on each page of our programme and on our website.
- » All seats are unreserved. Some events may have staggered pricing based on where you will be seated in the auditorium.
- » No animals are permitted into the Crowne Plaza Hotel except assistance dogs.
- » Accessibility: all venues can accommodate wheelchairs and those with mobility issues, and there is an accessible toilet. All venues have step-free access. Please contact us on info@stratfordliteraryfestival.co.uk if you have particular needs or require a seat close to the stage due to hearing or sight challenges. All speakers use a microphone except in workshops.
- » Children under 14 years must be accompanied by a responsible adult (over 18 years of age). We cannot accept responsibility for unaccompanied children. Children over 14 may attend alone but must be delivered and collected by a responsible adult and are not the responsibility of the Festival. Adults attending children's events go free unless otherwise stated. Children under 2 and babes in arms who do not require a seat do not need a ticket.
- » We reserve the right to alter the programme or substitute performers if circumstances dictate and we will do our very best to replace like with like. Please check our website or follow us on Instagram for programme change alerts. Ticketholders will also be emailed about any programme changes.
- » All events are an hour long unless otherwise stated. Books are available to buy at each event if applicable and authors will sign copies of their books after each event. Books featured at the Festival and those signed at earlier events will be on sale at Waterstones, 8 High Street. We request that you do not bring copies of books for signature not purchased at the event.
- » Some events may be filmed or recorded. By buying a ticket you are giving your consent to be filmed or recorded as a member of the audience. Please let one of the Festival team know if you do not wish to be in a photograph.
- » All details and prices are correct at time of going to press.

Making the Festival Happen

We would like to thank the following for their help and support:

All the wonderful authors, illustrators and artists who come to the Festival; the publishers who have worked with us; all who steward and volunteer at the Festival; all the staff at Waterstones Stratford, the Crowne Plaza Hotel and Rother Street Arts House; our interviewers; and of course our Friends and Benefactors, audiences, sponsors and advertisers who make the Festival possible.
